Are you interested in learning new skills to pursue a meaningful career?

Autism2Work provides workforce training and employment opportunities for people on the autism spectrum. We work with local inclusion employment organizations and top tier enterprises to pair qualified candidates with carefully matched jobs in IT and business operations. The result? Meaningful work where you can share your gifts.

What is the recruiting and training process?

1. Attend a meet and greet session in your area for an introduction to the Autism2Work program, recruiting and training processes, and to learn about current job openings. Complete hands-on exercises instead of a traditional job interview.

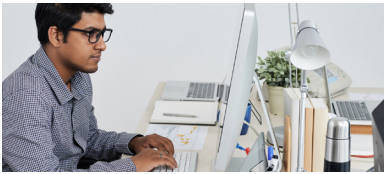

2. Attend a paid, 8-day job readiness training for education on technical topics and workforce development training to be successful in the work environment. After successful completion, you are eligible for an offer of employment from CAI.

3. As a CAI employee, receive continuous skill development, workplace support, mentorship, and cultural integration in your work environment.
